

The illustration depicts a magical winter forest at night. A young boy with brown hair, wearing a red jacket and blue pants, is running up a wooden staircase. He has a backpack and is holding a flashlight. To his left, a fairy with large, translucent wings and a red and white striped scarf is flying. In the foreground, a black cat with a red Santa hat is running. To the right, a beaver wearing a red Santa hat and glasses is holding a book. The forest is decorated with warm white string lights. In the background, there is a large clock tower and a window with laboratory glassware. The overall atmosphere is cozy and festive.
