Notes on Contributors

Edward Adams is Senior Lecturer in New Testament Studies in the Department of Theology and Religious Studies, King's College London. He is the author of Constructing the World: A Study in Paul's Cosmological Language (T&T Clark 2000) and The Stars Will Fall from Heaven: Cosmic Catastrophe in the New Testament and its World (T&T Clark 2007).

Khaled Anatolios is Associate Professor of Historical Theology at the Boston College School of Theology and Ministry. He is the author of Athanasius: The Coherence of his Thought (Routledge 1998, 2004) and the Athanasius volume of the Routledge Early Church Fathers series, as well as many articles on topics in early Christian, systematic, and Eastern Christian theology.

Harold W. Attridge, Dean and Professor of New Testament at Yale Divinity School, has made scholarly contributions to New Testament exegesis, the study of Hellenistic Judaism, and the history of early Christianity. His publications include Hebrews: A Commentary on the Epistle to the Hebrews (Fortress 1989), and Nag Hammadi Codex I: The Jung Codex (Brill 1985), as well as numerous book chapters and scholarly articles.

Per Beskow is Assistant Professor of Religious Studies at the University of Lund, Sweden. His main field is patristic studies. His works include Rex Gloriae: The Kingship of Christ in the Early Church (Almquist & Wiksell 1962). Strange Tales about Jesus (Fortress 1982/1983) is an example of his interest in literary forgeries.

Sandy Bharat is former director, now trustee, of the International Interfaith Centre at Oxford. Her publications include Christ Across the Ganges: Hindu Responses to Jesus (O-Books 2007). She has an honours degree in theology from the University of Exeter, has edited for the Encyclopaedia of Hinduism project (India Heritage Research Foundation and University of South Carolina), and manages two websites, Interfaith Information Online (www.interfaithinfo.net) and Spirituality for Daily Life (www.spiritualityfordailylife.com).

Helen K. Bond is Senior Lecturer in New Testament at the University of Edinburgh. Interested in the historical, political, and social background to the gospels and in the life (and execution) of Jesus, she has published Pontius Pilate in History and Interpretation (Cambridge 1998) and Caiaphas: Friend of Rome and Judge of Jesus? (Westminster John Knox 2004). She is currently writing a book on the historical Jesus for Continuum's Guide for the Perplexed series.

Ian Boxall is Senior Tutor and Tutorial Fellow in New Testament at St Stephen's House, University of Oxford. He is the author of Revelation: Vision and Insight (SPCK 2002) and The Revelation of St John in the Black's New Testament Commentary series (Hendrickson, Continuum 2006).

Delbert Burkett, Professor of Religious Studies at Louisiana State University, has written on the gospels and teaches a course on images of Jesus in history and tradition. Two volumes of his series Rethinking the Gospel Sources have appeared: From Proto-Mark to Mark (T&T Clark 2004) and The Unity and Plurality of Q (Society of Biblical Literature 2009). Other books include An Introduction to the New Testament and the Origins of Christianity (Cambridge 2002), and The Son of Man Debate (Cambridge 1999).

Warren Carter is Professor of New Testament at Brite Divinity School, Texas Christian University. His scholarship has focused on the gospels and on the diverse ways in which early Jesus-believers negotiated the Roman imperial world. He has written numerous articles and books, including John and Empire: Initial Explorations (T&T Clark/Continuum 2008); John: Storyteller, Interpreter,

Evangelist (Hendrickson 2006); and Matthew: Storyteller, Interpreter, Evangelist (rev. edn, Hendrickson 2004).

Mary L. Coloe PBVM is Associate Professor of the School of Theology at Australian Catholic University in Melbourne, Australia. She is the author of numerous articles and several books, including Dwelling in the Household of God: Johannine Ecclesiology and Spirituality (Liturgical 2007) and God Dwells with Us: Temple Symbolism in the Fourth Gospel (Liturgical 2001).

Michael J. Cook is Sol and Arlene Bronstein Professor of Judeo-Christian Studies at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, Cincinnati campus. He is the only rabbi in America with a Full Professorial Chair in New Testament, and more than one thousand rabbis have been graduated from his New Testament courses. His numerous publications include Modern Jews Engage the New Testament: Enhancing Jewish Well-Being in a Christian Environment (Jewish Lights 2008).

Zeba A. Crook is Associate Professor of Religion at Carleton University in Ottawa, Canada. He is the author and editor of several books and is currently writing a book on representations of Jesus in modern fiction. On this topic, he has made several public lectures and published one article: "Fictionalising Jesus: Story and History in Two Recent Jesus Novels," Journal for the Study of the Historical Jesus 5 (2007): 33-55.

Kelly Brown Douglas is the Chair of Philosophy and Religion at Goucher College, where she holds the Elizabeth Conolly Todd Distinguished Professorship. She was the first black woman to be ordained as an Episcopal priest in the Southern Ohio Diocese. A leading voice in the development of a womanist theology, she has published numerous essays and articles and several books, including The Black Christ (Orbis 1994).

J. K. Elliott is Professor (Emeritus) of New Testament Textual Criticism at the University of Leeds, England. He is the editor of The Apocryphal New Testament (Clarendon 1993) and The Apocryphal Jesus (Oxford 1996). He has also written many books and articles on Greek New Testament manuscripts and on textual criticism. He is secretary of the International Greek New Testament Project, having previously been the executive editor of the Project's two-volume critical apparatus to Luke's Gospel.

Stephen Finlan is adjunct faculty at Salve Regina University in Newport, Rhode Island, and has taught at the University of Durham, where he obtained his PhD. He is the author of The Background and Content of Paul's Cultic Atonement Metaphors (SBL/Brill 2004); Problems with Atonement: The Origins of, and Controversy about, the Atonement Doctrine (Liturgical 2005); Options on Atonement in Christian Thought (Liturgical 2007); and The Apostle Paul and the Pauline Tradition (Liturgical 2008).

Majella Franzmann is Pro-Vice-Chancellor for Humanities and Professor of Religion at the University of Otago, New Zealand. She has published Jesus in the Nag Hammadi Writings (T&T Clark 1996), Jesus in the Manichaean Writings (T&T Clark 2003), and translations and analysis of the fourth-century Manichaean Syriac remains from ancient Roman Kellis in Egypt. More recently she has been working on the fourteenth-century Christian Syro-Turkic tombstones in Quanzhou, China.

John P. Galvin, Professor of Systematic Theology at The Catholic University of America, Washington, DC, received his doctorate in theology from the University of Innsbruck, Austria, in 1970. He is the co-editor, with Francis Schüssler Fiorenza, of Systematic Theology: Roman Catholic Perspectives (2 vols., Fortress 1991), to which he also contributed the chapter on Jesus Christ.

David B. Gowler is the Dr Lovick Pierce and Bishop George F. Pierce Professor of Religion at Oxford College of Emory University. He is also affiliated with the Center for Ethics at Emory. His books include What Are They Saying About the Historical Jesus? (Paulist 2007). He has published dozens of articles, book chapters, and book reviews and has edited several other books. His current project is James Through the Centuries (Blackwell, forthcoming).

Paul Harvey is Professor of History and Presidential Teaching Scholar at the University of Colorado. He is the author of Freedom's Coming: Religious Cultures and the Shaping of the South, from the Civil War through the Civil Rights Era (2005) and the co-editor of the Columbia Guide to Religion in American History.

Lisa Isherwood is Professor of Feminist Liberation Theologies and Director of Theological Partnerships at the University of Winchester. She is executive editor of the international journal Feminist Theology and editor of five international book series. She has published seventeen books in the area of feminist theologies, gender, and sexuality. She is Director of the Britain and Ireland School of Feminist Theology and has served as Vice-President for the European Society of Women in Theological Research.

Theodore W. Jennings Jr. is Professor of Biblical and Constructive Theology at Chicago Theological Seminary. In 1991 he initiated the program in Gay Studies there, which is now the Center for LGBTQ Religious Studies. In addition to lecturing at many universities in Latin America, Africa, and Asia, he has written scores of essays and more than fifteen books, including The Man Jesus Loved: Homoerotic Narrative in the New Testament (Pilgrim 2003).

Robin M. Jensen is the Luce Chancellor's Professor of the History of Christian Art and Worship at Vanderbilt University, where she holds a joint appointment in the Divinity School and the Department of the History of Art. Her books include

Understanding Early Christian Art (Routledge 2000); Face to Face: Portraits of the Divine in Early Christianity (Fortress 2005); and The Substance of Things Seen: Art, Faith and the Christian Community (Eerdmans 2004).

Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen is Professor of Systematic Theology at Fuller Theological Seminary and Docent of Ecumenics at the University of Helsinki. He has authored eleven scholarly books, including The Trinity: Global Perspectives (Westminster John Knox 2007) and Christology: A Global Introduction (Baker Academic 2003), as well as more than one hundred articles that have appeared in several languages. Dr Kärkkäinen is also co-editor of the Global Dictionary of Theology (with William Dyrness; InterVarsity 2008).

Michael Martin has a PhD in Philosophy from Harvard University and is Professor Emeritus at Boston University. He is the author of many articles and reviews as well as several books, including Atheism: A Philosophical Justification (Temple University 1990) and The Case Against Christianity (Temple University 1991). He is the editor of The Cambridge Companion to Atheism (2007) and co-editor with Ricki Monnier of The Improbability of God (Prometheus 2006) and The Impossibility of God (Prometheus 2003).

Reem A. Meshal holds a PhD in Islamic Studies from McGill University. She is currently Assistant Professor of Religious Studies at Louisiana State University. Her specialization is Islamic Law and Society in the Ottoman Era. She has published articles in two edited volumes and has one forthcoming in the Journal of Islamic Studies. She is currently working on a book on the Shari'a courts of Ottoman Cairo.

Robert J. Miller is Rosenberger Professor of Christian Thought and Religious Studies at Juniata College in Pennsylvania. Miller has been an active member of the Jesus Seminar since 1986 and has served on the steering committee for the Society of Biblical Literature Historical Jesus Section since 2004. His publications include The Jesus Seminar and its Critics (Polebridge 1999) and Born Divine: The Births of Jesus and Other Sons of God (Polebridge 2003).
