Love poems

“Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It does not dishonor others, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres.”

1 Corinthians 13:1-13

Trying to survive
Long enough
To strive
For that loving touch
I whisper your name in the wind
When we dance in the moonlight

Longing for your touch
Your smile
Warm and tender
So much more
Than just to get by

Why is love
Full of sorrow
Why are tears
Falling from my eyes
What is life
More then loneliness
A sudden spark
In the night

So many nights
I asked
Searched
Under the stars
Sometimes I tried
To reach you
On wings of love
In the sky
So blue
Our trails met
At last
Destiny calls

Evening is here
The night closes in
Wish upon a star
Let love begin

I can love you
But I can't Make you love me

On a timeless beach
In the windy weed
As the stroke of a fire
My desire burn
For your love and affection
The touch of your heart
Your voice is my song
Still I am waiting
For so long

Don't let your dreams die
They are meant to be true
Listen to your higher self
Dare to believe
In a world
Of love
Happiness
Peace
Eternal youth

You're my angel
My song
Now I know
Where I belong
You're my savior
My king
Nothing is like the love you bring
No more tears or sorrow
No more empty days
The light is close and endless
Love is here to stay

It takes more than a beautiful body
More than a lovely smile
More than a golden arrow
To capture my mind

You are more than a memory
Deep in my mind
More than a feeling
In my heart
You're so amazing
Wild and free
One of a kind
It's very easy to see
Since we met
I can't let go
Love you so much
I need you more and more

You really touched me
Deep in my soul
Blue angel
Lady of the twilight
On majestic wings
With unbroken force
You lift me up
When I fall

The dreamer
Is the dream
The believer
Is the belief
The light
Shines from within Life is love
Skin to skin

Show me darkness
I will erase it with light
Show me fear
I will stand beside and fight
If you lose hope
I will share my faith
Learn to love
Forget how to hate

There's no space between us
No time no end
As fireflies in the night
Lovers that pretend
Connection to freedom
A secret place beyond
As windfall in the summer breeze
Wings with the same goal
We melt together
On a sunny beach
One mind one heart one soul

On a bed of roses
In a world of light
Stillness and peace
No day or night
No end to my journey
Heaven in sight
No fear or regrets
I showed all my cards
No ace in my chest
Still I remember
Still I feel
The love between us
Is for real

The spirit of liberty
In you and me
Will finally set us free
Too love and dignity

Let's cry together
Wipe our tears away
With an eagle feather
Let's meet again
So close
Dance in the rain
Let's follow the wind
When our souls melt together
Like flames in the night
Let's shine like stars
When our love
Finally make
Everything alright

Our souls are one
Like twin flames
Our bodies are kept apart
By manmade games
Our minds respond to each other
Through space and time
Our journey
Is meant to last forever
In a magic rhyme

A stormy sea
Between you and me
Broken promises
Hearts in love that bleed

Even if your dreams are shattered
And your eyes are filled with tears
If all you see are illusions
All you feel is fear
If there's no way out and no surrender
Everyone you trusted was pretended
Never close your heart
True love can't die
Let your light shine
The darkness
Is just a lie

Walking
On a timeless beach
With every dream
Within reach
Filling the ocean
With tears from my eyes
Guided by the moonlight
Thousand stars in sight
I feel the waves surround me
My emptiness disappear
I know you're here beside There's nothing more to fear

Let me hold your hand
Walk by the river
Kiss your lips
Once more
Let's dance
In the moonlight
Never surrender
Guided by love
Will we meet
Once again
