About the Author

John Walkenbach is a bestselling Excel author who has published more than 50 spreadsheet books. He lives amid the saguaros, javelinas, rattlesnakes, bobcats, and Gila monsters in Southern Arizona, but the critters are mostly scared away by his clawhammer banjo playing. For more information, Google him.

About the Technical Editor

Niek Otten lives in the Netherlands. He started in data processing in 1967 in an insurance company. He ran into Visicalc in 1980 and has been addicted to spreadsheets ever since. His first encounter with Excel (version 1!) was in 1985 on a Macintosh. Since 2005, Niek has been self-employed—reviewing books, writing articles, and developing Excel-related software, such as a high-performance actuarial add-in.

The background of the page is a light gray technical drawing. It features several interlocking gears of different sizes, some with teeth and others as simple circles. There are also various lines, including straight lines, dashed lines, and curved lines, some of which are labeled with letters like 'X' and 'Y'. The overall style is that of a mechanical or engineering blueprint.
