My heartfelt thanks to my family and various friends who always support me and encourage me when something doesn't work out. A special thanks to the publishing house at ESTE, which made my dream come true in 2005 and published the first Zabu adventures. Another thanks goes to the many students who sent me countless great letters and beautiful drawings. Thanks are also due to my friends in the Azores who invited me many times to observe the wonderful and impressive marine mammals in their natural habitat from their tour boats and even to swim with wild dolphins.
