

Michael Siegmund
Arlett Siegmund

Racoon Willi and Friederike the fox: A story book for philosophizing with children

Philosophy for Children (p4c).
For shared reflection and philosophizing with children aged 4 and older

Illustrations by Saskia Döhmann

The story begins with two incredible animals. Rarely before were there such adorable animals upon this earth. They're truly unique! They're called Willi and Friederike.

We should quickly introduce them so that you can visualise them. Here they both are. As you can see, Willi is a racoon. And as you can surely recognise, Friederike is a fox.

Friederike and Willi are the very best of friends. Nothing, and no one, could separate them.

They tell each other everything, play with each other and have already had some adventures like this together because they love to discover something new every day. The two friends always have lots of fun together.