I ache for you.

Maybe I'm just a girl who was once in love with a pretty blue-eyed boy
and wanted to scream her love out to the world.

I didn't mean to fall in love with you, but it was 2 am and at some point the colour of your eyes became my favourite shade.

Yes, I'm falling in love with you and everything felt alright
For a moment while we were dancing in my kitchen to Oso
Oso, laughing and making jokes.

As I was lying in your arms, and you looked at me and at First didn't dare to kiss me.

And for a long time, I felt safe again with someone.

Yes, I'm falling in love, but you can't

Fall in love without Falling.

I smiled a bit as I was looking at my ex' Instagram profile because he considered himself as an artist.
And that's because he is indeed an artist.

Of masquerading himself.

You made me feel so hard for you without even trying.
You hurt me so badly without even knowing.
